Bay Area Teachers to Call for Universal Health Care at “Sicko” Premiere

Teachers from the Bay Area will protest their skyrocketing health insurance costs and call for universal health care at the Oakland premiere of the health care crisis documentary “Sicko” this evening. Bay Area teachers have recently been hit with steep increases for health care coverage, contributing to one district’s recent vote to authorize a strike.

The educators will call for passage of SB 840 (Kuehl), the single-payer health care legislation to cover all Californians.
