On Nov. 7 Educators Recommend

Governor Phil Angelides

Phil Angelides will bring a consistent voice to California, a voice that has repeatedly advocated for investment in education to give all students the opportunity to learn, retirement security for public employees and all workers, and health care for all Californians.

Lieutenant Governor John Garamendi

John Garamendi, a long-time advocate of consumer insurance issues, will promote health care for all and be a leader on the UC Board of Regents and the CSU Board of Trustees for full access and faculty rights.

Attorney General Jerry Brown

Former Governor Jerry Brown, who signed into law collective bargaining rights for California educators, will protect consumers from fraud like the Enron debacle and, in statewide elections, write balanced ballot proposition descriptions for voter guides.

Secretary of State Debra Bowen

Debra Bowen, a dedicated advocate for open government and women's equality issues, will make sure elections are fair, votes are counted and new technologies are implemented to protect your vote

Treasurer Bill Lockyer

Consumer advocate Bill Lockyer will ensure state funds are invested responsibly, and that CalSTRS and CalPERS continue to provide real retirement security.

Controller John Chiang

John Chiang will use his impressive financial expertise to ensure that school and college districts receive all the state funding to which they are entitled, and that CalSTRS and CalPERS funds remain protected.

Insurance Commissioner Cruz Bustamante

As regulator of the California insurance industry, Cruz Bustamante will fight to protect consumers with fair coverage and reasonable insurance premiums.
