LABOR'S LEGISLATIVE SCORECARD

California
LABOR
Federation

THE CALIFORNIA LABOR FEDERATION is dedicated to building power for working people. With more than 1,200 affiliated local unions representing 2 million union members, we are actively engaged in every aspect of California's economy and government. Together, we fight for legislation that protects working families, and we hold our legislators accountable.

TOGETHER, WE ARE THE CALIFORNIA LABOR MOVEMENT.

This has been an historic year for the labor movement and for labor activists. Across the country, workers are coming together in solidarity to fight back against unreasonable working hours, unsafe working conditions, and low wages. This unrest has empowered hundreds of thousands of workers across industries to organize and build worker power at their workplaces.

Our movement is about rising together to win. We know that building up our collective power helps lift workers out of poverty and into the middle class. It assures individual opportunity, dignity, respect, and advancement. Approval of labor unions is at its highest point since 1965 and workers across the state are letting their voices be heard.

That show of force helped us defeat Donald Trump in 2020, it is what allowed us to defeat the anti-worker recall of Governor Newsom last year. And it's what motivates us every morning to get up and continue to fight. The wealthy continue to do well here, even though millions of workers are still without work and struggle to make ends meet. Our essential workers have continued to face record burnout, PTSD, and workplace violence as the pandemic continues to spread throughout the country.

This legislative session was about protecting workers from the pandemic, from abuse, and from mistreatment. The Governor signed many of our priority bills including protections for garment workers, COVID-19 paid sick leave, improving working conditions for warehouse workers, and ensuring that striking public employee health care will not be weaponized. We also saw record investment in traditionally underfunded programs and new funding to support those who are looking to return to high quality, good paying jobs.

Our legislative labor champions were there in the struggle with us, fighting for working families and protecting them from harm. As we enter year three of this pandemic, we will be there every step of the way to ensure that the voices of working families are heard.

In Solidarity,

Art Pulaski
Executive Secretary-Treasurer
